Submission Detail

I would really like to see a public bus service running from Hastings to Mornington. My family moved to Hastings from Mornington 3 years ago to get into the housing market and my son was already attending [REDACTED]. Moving schools wasn't an option and he had been allowed the school bus service however as an ineligible traveller. Due to The Public Transport Vic and the schools bus policy changing, my son is now required to pay $120 per school term to remain on the bus. I feel there is a sufficient amount of not only students but residents that would really utilise a public bus service to and from Hastings/Mornington. The school bus is always full so to me it demonstrates a lot of people would benefit. As it stands, if my son was to catch public transport to school each day it would take him well over an hour and a half each way per day catching a train to Frankston then a bus to Mornington and as a mother I don't like the fact he would be travelling on his own through Frankston that frequently. If this matter could be looked into I would greatly appreciate your thoughts Regards
